Recovery Under Way E. W. Beatty Believes

Reviewing Canadian business conditions of the past year and at the same time looking forward to the prospects for 1934, E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, thinks the country is on the way back to prosperity, although the way may be long, and at times difficult. In a statement published in the "Montreal Star" he expressed his belief that the country is on the way back to prosperity.

"Of 1933 I think it is perhaps the year that has inspired most of us with the belief that the country is on the way back to prosperity. It is all about us. We see along the road leading to its end more clearly and further than we did a year ago. That fact has inspired confidence and courage and has started us moving towards the better times that broadened prosperity will bring to all. The road is not an easy one; there are long hills and difficult spots, but it offers no danger or problem too great to be surmounted by the courage and energy of the Canadian people. We have before us problems that will tax the ingenuity and strength of our business, statescraft, finance and industry and make great demands upon the patience and understanding of our people, but if these problems are met with courage and dealt with in accordance with the laws of sound economics which are as resiliently unchangeable as the laws of nature, this country will emerge from the purging in far better shape to progress than it has ever been before, and individual prosperity for all classes of our people will be more firmly established. I believe that the elusive corner we were hoping to turn through many weary months, slipped past us all unnoticed some time ago, and that we have definitely passed through the worst and most trying phase of the period."

Railroad Situation. The railroad situation is particularly difficult for our railroads and there seems little reason to hope that conditions are going to be much easier for those who operate them in the immediate or near future. Alteration in Canada's status from the position we used to claim as the world's chief producer of breadstuffs has already proved far-reaching in its adverse effect upon our transportation industry. Under most favorable circumstances governing development of other lines of agricultural production for export, it may reasonably take some years to bring the volume of Canada's rail freight back to the high figures of a few years ago.

The snowfall in Fernie district this winter has amounted to more than eleven feet. The rainfall has been 20.8 inches. Over sixteen inches of rain fell during the month of December. If that had been snow instead of rain, the total would have been about twenty-five feet.

The wheels of commerce are turning fast since the depression is over. Just to prove it the following story is related which would indicate that business is moving so swiftly now-a-days that even "N.S.F." checks do not stay long enough in one place to gather a service charge. A dashing youth purchased a tie at a men's furnishing establishment and tendered a cheque for a dollar. Apparently the civic motto at this town is "Circulate or Stagnate" for the proprietor immediately traded the cheque for a hearty dinner at a lunch counter and from thence the order made a tour of the business section, collecting some nineteen endorsements. The twentieth merchant, however, broke the spell and presented it to the bank where it was discovered that the cheque was just another "joke." The disappointed merchant evidently had a Chamber of Commerce meeting called immediately, for the twenty business men went into conference with the cheque. The result of the conference is explained as follows:

"Each merchant figured out the profit they had made on their dollar transaction and found it to average 25 per cent, so each decided to contribute five cents of their twenty-five per cent profit and tear up the cheque. The final result was that twenty merchants had done twenty dollars' worth of business on a dud cheque and all of them had made a fair profit. And now they are wondering who was the loser in the deal and all are quite satisfied."

FOREST FIRE LOSSES. During the two and one-half years from October 1, 1930, when the transfer of resources to provincial control took place, to the end of December 1932, the total estimated loss in forest fires of timber and property was $1,108,000, in a total of 1,057 fires burning over a total area of 154,161 acres. The loss in timber was just over a billion cords. The greatest loss in the period mentioned was in 1931, a total of $867,487 from April to December. The loss in 1932 was only $160,867. The figures for 1933 are not yet completely compiled.

The forest service in the period mentioned maintained a total staff of 130 in connection with forest protective services. There were 21 ranger stations.

WHO WAS THE LOSER? The governments spent $1,015,600,000. In the aggregate they piled up huge deficits—about $200,000,000. What happens to you if you spend more than you earn? You know. What happens to you when the government spends more than it can collect? You know that, too. Losses on our nationally owned railways and steamships during the two years 1931 and 1932 alone added $90,000 to the taxes of every family in Canada.

In some small towns pressure of public opinion has brought about a balanced budget and reduction of taxes. Canadian business has had to retrench more drastically than has ever been deemed possible and has improved its position by doing it. Governments must do the same.

Tell your M.P. how you feel about these things. When he knows you are back of him he can do a lot to stop wastes for which the higher politicians are responsible. Really, you are responsible. Waste and excesses would cease if you, as a taxpayer, asserted yourself.—Maclean's Magazine.

DEATH OF DEXTER A. SMITH

The death occurred at the Butte Ranch, six miles south of Lundbreck, on Friday morning last, of Dexter Axial Smith, at the ripe age of seventy-six. Mr. Smith had been in failing health for a considerable time.

The remains were brought to Blairmore on Sunday, and interment took place here on Monday afternoon, following funeral service held at the Ferguson undertaking parlour. The remains were laid to rest in the Union cemetery, beside those of his wife, who predeceased him many years ago.

Farm neighbor, pallbearers were: 2. Mitchell, junior, Fred Link, W. T. Jody, Percy Dennis, Jack Eddy and James Miller.

Among the relatives present for the funeral were three sons, Walter, Carl and John.

The late Mr. Smith was one of the oldest residents of the Beaver Mines district, coming to locate there some twenty-odd years ago from the United States. Besides relatives in the Beaver Mines district, he is survived by one daughter, residing in the States.

Friends present for the funeral rites included the McDowells, C. Mitchell, senior, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Link and son Charlie, W. Lynch and "Babe" Smith.

AN AXE FOR THE TAX

"The Russians give up all they make above a bare living to the government and call it communism. In Canada we do the same thing and call it taxes."

This after-dinner speech quip may exaggerate, but there's many a true word spoken in jest.

Taxation in Canada today is so great a burden that in order to foot the bill citizens must deny themselves commodities and services they would otherwise buy; must in many cases drain their savings.

Some jolting figures have been compiled by the Citizens' Research Institute. They are presented in the December issue of the Board of Trade Journal. Look at some of them:

Cost of government in Canada in 1932 (latest available) was 35% of our national income.

Between 1928 and 1932, expenditure of our Dominion, Provincial, Municipal Governments increased by 23%.

In the same period our national income declined by 50%. Not that taxes were decreased. They were increased. The drop was caused by the inability of the taxpayer to pay.

The greatest percentage of increase in spending took place in Dominion expenditures. In 1932 the Federal government spent an estimated sum of $470,600,000, thirty-three per cent more than the $354,531,500 it spent in 1928. Its tax revenue in 1932 was 258,207,000, 35% less than the $395,921,027 it collected in 1928.

Provincial expenditures in the same period increased by 19 per cent. Tax revenue, through higher imposition, increased by 21 per cent and the provinces are charity patients of the Dominion Exchequer. Municipal expenditures increased by 14 per cent. Tax revenue increased by 16 per cent because of higher rates.

Lumped together, in 1932 all our governments spent $1,015,600,000 on current account. This does not include expenditures on capital account or for publicly owned public utilities such as hydro-electric enterprises, water works, street railways, Canadian National Railways, Canadian Govt. Mercantile Marine, etc. It does include deficit incurred in the operation of such services.

These governments spent $1,015,600,000. In the aggregate they piled up huge deficits—about $200,000,000. What happens to you if you spend more than you earn? You know. What happens to you when the government spends more than it can collect? You know that, too. Losses on our nationally owned railways and steamships during the two years 1931 and 1932 alone added $90,000 to the taxes of every family in Canada.

Thirty years ago, S. J. Hungerford, a present acting president of the Canadian National Railways, was promoted to master mechanic of the central division of the C.P.R., with headquarters at Winnipeg.

The Canadian Government, aided by the Canadian Pacific Railway, has placed approximately 48,000 people on farms throughout the Dominion during the past three years, without direct financial assistance. Of these, 8,000 were placed on the land under an employment relief land settlement plan, shared by the provincial and federal governments.

A few years ago Alberta was a heavy importer of eggs. During the intervening period the situation has been reversed, and the province is now on an exporting basis, the import of eggs being almost negligible. In 1933 the total egg export from the province was 39,325 cases, or about 57 carloads, while the imports were but 1,500 cases, from B.C. Of the total exports, about 36,000 cases were in the first three grades, and about 20,000 cases were either extras or fresh firsts. The export of poultry totalled 1,262,500 pounds, of which over a million pounds was turkey meat.

Look For A Silver Lining

During periods of difficulty and discouragement it is natural that the minds of people turn to and dwell upon those conditions which are the source of their difficulties and the cause of their discouragement. In fact, the tendency is for people to dwell upon these things to the almost complete exclusion of subjects which provide reason for confidence and encouragement.

This, it may be repeated, is quite natural; just as natural, in fact, as it is during periods of rapid development and general prosperity to close one's eyes to all warning signs along the road. In other words, the vast majority of people are enthusiastic optimists, and quite impatient of words of warning and caution from more thoughtful observers, when things are going well, but are just as confirmed pessimists, and impatient with those who point to favorable signs, when the existing state of things is bad. Very few of us take note of the cloud small as a man's hand coming up on the horizon when the midday sun is shining, and the number is equally small who can see the silver lining to the clouds when the skies are completely overcast.

As a result of this tendency, mankind plunges thoughtlessly ahead, the great majority sweeping all others long for good or ill. During boom periods, when the cry is full steam ahead, and when this, and the other great project involving the expenditure of millions of borrowed money is being advocated, persons who tender the advice that they should give more serious consideration to the project, count the cost, and give a thought to the ultimate and inevitable future, are termed back-numbers, tightwads, non-progressive. Governments which at such times tell the people that there is a limit to this discounting of the future, that a pay-as-you-go policy is much wiser, are swept away. The spenders take control.

But when the bubble bursts, when prosperity vanishes and depression takes its place, when the great spending comes to an end, and the bills are presented for payment, and taxation to meet those bills is imposed in heavier and heavier doses, then those who were most outspoken in favor of incurring the bills and most contemptuous of those who urged caution, are the first to complain of the short-sightedness of politicians and Governments upon whom they proceed to lay responsibility for all their troubles. On the other hand, during the prosperous periods most people take full credit to themselves, for their own advancement, their increased prosperity, and the general improvement of their business and their community, and are inclined to give little or no credit to anybody else.

After all, these are common traits in our human make-up. It is well, however, to occasionally take a good square look at ourselves, to weigh ourselves in two scales, to be absolutely honest in an impartial sizing-up of ourselves, to consider our own past views and actions and their effect upon present day conditions. Furthermore, in this present period of discouragement, it is well to overcome our natural tendency to see everything through blue spectacles, and to take a look at the silver lining to the clouds.

Notwithstanding all our economic problems, Canada is free from some of the worse of those which afflict the people of other nations. For example, what community in the whole length and breadth of Canada has been shocked and outraged by a lynching in its midst, such as is more or less a commonplace occurrence in the United States? How many kidnappings have occurred in Canada even during these times which unquestionably are an incentive to law-breaking and violence, although kidnappings are daily happenings across the line? And why is this such a marked difference for the better prevails on this side of an imaginary line?

The answer is to be found in Canada's far superior judicial system, resulting as it has in absolute confidence that even-handed justice will be administered, thus rendering the invoking of lynch-law unnecessary on the one hand, and proving a deterrent to kidnappers, murderers, and gangster activities. The tradition of respect for law and order in Canada is a great national asset, bringing comfort and security to all our people, and providing a sure guarantee against mob law and gangster rule in this Dominion. It is a strong foundation upon which Canada rests and will build throughout the future.

More of the silver lining is seen in the absence of strikes and riots and picketings in this Dominion as compared with many other lands. There has been an occasional small strike in Canada, one or two small clashes with the officers of the law, an isolated case or two of picketings, but there have been no killings, and, generally speaking, peace and order have prevailed throughout the period of the depression. Canada's legislation dealing with industrial disputes has been effective even under the strain and stress of the present economic upheaval because that legislation is fair to all, humane in its principles and effective in its operation and administration in providing justice for all. In this respect, Canada presents a picture that is most gratifying when placed in contrast to most countries.

In Canada, too, our political system and institutions have stood the test. Revolutions have taken place in other lands, in which lives have been lost, property destroyed, liberties taken away, dictatorships established. In Canada, our people have been moving forward through the orderly processes of democratic, representative government. There has been no revolution, nor will there be. Confidence has been maintained in our existing form of government, and it is proving flexible enough to the people's will to enable them to achieve such reforms as they desire.

Many other examples might be cited, and will occur to readers of this article, but those mentioned are given as an incentive to people to try and overcome their natural tendency to look constantly on the dark side of things in these days, and, for a change, contemplate and study those that are not only brighter but contain promise of still brighter, better things ahead.

Household Drudgery The Bane of a Woman's Life

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman have good health when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. In a way, wonder she becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night.

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the much desired health.

Woman Botanist Has Made Hazardous Trip

Tale Of Heroic Journey Brought Down From Aklavik

From out of the fastnesses of Canada's frozen north emerged a tale of a woman's hazardous journey along 350 miles of the most dangerous part of the Arctic coast.

Miss Isabel W. Hutchison, young Scotswoman, completed the journey braving hardship, hunger and other cold, and arriving at her destination, Aklavik, just before Christmas. Word of her exploit was brought to Fort McMurray by Pilot John Bythell, Canadian Airways, returned from several months in the far north.

The Scotswoman made the trip by dog teams, Pilot Bythell said, when winter overtook her as she was making her way to Eskimo schooner around Point Barrow. When the ice formed she took to skis.

It had been Miss Hutchison's intention to make connections with the Arctic boat Patton, near Point Barrow, but Capt. Peterson was unable to take her to her desired destination, Herschel Island. She therefore chartered Eskimo schooner along the route to help her on her way.

Incidentally, about this time Miss Hutchison had the distinction of visiting and bringing several souvenirs from the derelict Hudson Bay Company's boat Baychimo, which was then still afloat about 15 miles off shore.

Later, and after a succession of storms, she was finally frozen in about 350 miles short of her goal. This distance with severe hardship and difficulty she covered with borrowed dog teams, arriving at Aklavik a few days before Christmas.

Apparently, stated Pilot Bythell, she was little the worse for this tremendous journey, which if only on account of the excessive cold this winter, would have daunted the most hardened of northern travelers.

Miss Hutchison is collecting rare flower and plant specimens for the Royal Gardens at Kew, England, and for the same purpose spent many months in Greenland a year ago. She is slight in build, Mr. Bythell continued, and her appearance certainly belies the staunch heart and dogged determination which must accompany any one who could so compete with the hardy Eskimo in his own terrain.

Empire Mail Service

Studying Routes Between United Kingdom and Canada

The aeronautical correspondent of the London Morning Post declares a cabinet committee was considering steps to launch an intensive period of Empire air communication expansion and that it was studying the routes between the United Kingdom and Canada and the United Kingdom and Australia.

The expansion, the correspondent said, would include faster air mail services and a modified subsidy system. The committee sought, he added, to develop all airmail service comparable with that in the United States.

A Second Houdini

English Vicar Skilled In Fleeing Hims: From Manacles

The Vicar of Ears Barton, Northamptonshire, England, Rev. L. A. Ewart, is something of a second Houdini, and it has not adopted the church as a career, might have won fame by his remarkable skill in escaping from leg-irons or handcuffs in the presence of friends and acquaintances.

At a British Legion dinner at the neighboring village of Irchester he astonished the company by a masterful display of handcuff manipulation. His hands were manacled behind his back, but in a few minutes the vicar was free, both locks having been opened.

Mr. Ewart has been known to escape from 25 locks in 10 minutes. He has freed himself from American leg-irons, Siberian fetters and German handcuffs.

On one occasion a police inspector (off duty) at a gathering, fastened a pair of handcuffs on Mr. Ewart, but had no key to release the vicar if he failed to escape. In a few moments the vicar was free. Then he induced the inspector to be handcuffed. Smilingly, however, he declined to show his method of escape and the inspector had to return to the police station to get the handcuffs removed.

White Collar Women

Most Unemployed Office Girls Willing To Do Any Work

The white collar women are giving Los Angeles a lot of worry, says W. L. Clark, in Border Cities Star. There are some 14,000 of these girls out of work and the civic authorities are at their wits' end to know what to do about it. The white collar girls are the stenographers, bookkeepers, secretaries, receptionists and nurses for doctors and dentists, comptometers and other office machine operators, saleswomen, bank girls, and others. They are the ones who would be edged by side with the white collar men in offices and stores. With 14,000 trained women and girls asking work and finding none, Los Angeles is faced with a serious quandary.

Nor is the question unique in California. Every city in Canada has the same problem to solve. Windsor's white collar girls are anxious to work, but some of them cannot find any jobs. In fact some of them are only too pleased to work for anything at all.

Conditions Are Improving

Evidence Of Uptrend Of Business Shown By Increase In Sales Of Salada Tea

An indication that conditions are improving and that business is on the upturn is shown by the fact that the Salada Tea Co. sold over 54% more tea in Western Canada in 1933 than in 1932.

This is especially significant since Salada is a quality tea.

Marvels of the Human Eye

NO. 7—PRESBYOPIA OR "OLD-AGE SIGHT"

Although forty years of age is of course not considered old, yet because Presbyopia usually manifests itself at about that age, it is commonly referred to as "Old-age sight." How often we hear people say "my sight is just as good as it ever was except for reading and sewing." Yes, this condition is common to man. Let us consider the cause of this natural development which causes so much inconvenience after middle life.

We have fully explained that in order to have a clear image of a distant object focused on the retina, the length of the eyeball and the curvature of the Cornea and Lens must be properly related. The first two may be considered as fixed as to length and curvature respectively, but fortunately the Lens is elastic and it is this elastic power or "Accommodation" which enables us to focus objects near at hand. Accommodation is most powerful around twelve years of age and then gradually diminishes till there is none left at age sixty-five or seventy.

For sustained close work a certain amount of accommodation is necessary and this the average person of forty-five does not possess, hence the necessity of assisting the falling accommodation by artificial means in the form of glasses and as the accommodation continues to decrease, the strength of the lenses must be increased. This change should be every two or three years.

Ruling Is Strict

Producers Regain Permit To Pack Grade A1 Eggs

Grade A1 of Canadian eggs is a super-grade and the packing of this grade may be done only by producers authorized by permit by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Application by producers desiring to pack this grade should be made to the Poultry Services, Dominion Live Stock Branch, Ottawa. Grade A1, it is explained, was included in the recent revisions to the Canadian Standard egg grades for two reasons—first, to provide a place for eggs which, because of production conditions and method of marketing, merit specific recognition over the top commercial fresh egg grade, and, secondly, to establish a grade which would serve as an ideal towards which producers would be encouraged to work. Grade A1 eggs are not a grade intended for immediate marketing or long shipment. They are produced only under careful production conditions and are marketed without delay.

Had Adventurous Life

Capt. Carey, Former Commander Of C.P.R. Fleet, Crossed Atlantic 600 Times

Word was received at Montreal of the death at Walsley, England, of Captain Francis Carey, 85, former commander of the Canadian Pacific fleet, who retired in 1914.

Captain Carey had an adventurous life in his many years on the sea. He crossed the Atlantic 600 times, once aboard a large passenger boat, 800 miles in December sea, transported a whole harem, and was the first commander of the ill-fated Empress of Ireland.

The aged-captain once successfully commanded all the "lake" boats on the Beaver line and was also with the Elder Dempster line before becoming captain of the Empress of Ireland in 1908.

Fifth Exporting Nation

Canada Held This Position During First 10 Months Of 1933

Canada held her position as the world's fifth exporting nation during the first 10 months of 1933, but the United Kingdom replaced Germany as the second on the list, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of statistics from League of Nations sources.

The United States continued to hold first place by a narrow margin over the United Kingdom, while Germany occupied third place; France, fourth, and Japan, sixth. The relative places are computed on values of exports in gold dollars.

Chile Annexes An Island

Look Possession In 1883 But Title Was Not Registered

Easter Island, one of the great archaeological mysteries of the Pacific, has been officially added to the Chilean national domain. Back in 1888 Chile took formal possession of the island, a tiny triangle of volcanic origin, 2,300 miles out in the Pacific ocean from the Chilean port of Caldera, and an expedition was sent out to plant the flag. A few days ago an inquisitive government official discovered the island never had been placed in the official records, an act necessary to possession of title. The registry was made as quickly as possible, after which authorities aware of the secret took a deep breath.

352 Women Receive Degree Of Bachelor Of Arts

Women will rule in the arts of tomorrow if figures released in the report of the president of the University of Toronto can be accepted as indicating a "trend." Last year 352 women were admitted to the degree of bachelor of arts there, and only 297 men qualified.

In the degree, master of arts, there were 77 men admitted to the degree and only 41 women.

THRONE SPEECH STRESSES BETTER TIMES TO COME

Ottawa.—Parliament opened with a rush on Thursday. Leaders alike failed to dampen the colorful opening ceremony, much of it rooted in antiquity. Hundreds of people lined Parliament Hill to catch a fleeting glimpse of the pageant.

The speech from the throne, studied with expressions of optimism, stressed better times to come and returning economic stability.

The speech forecast a Dominion-wide building program to relieve unemployment.

The subject was canvassed at the recent Dominion-provincial conference and might be instituted by the Dominion alone or with the co-operation of the provinces and municipalities.

The speech intimated legislation would be introduced to "facilitate the efficient and profitable marketing of livestock and agricultural products," possibly through some form of a marketing board.

The government will submit for ratification agreements designed to mitigate silver fluctuations. The Bank act, under which the chartered banks operate, will be overhauled on the basis of the Macmillan commission report, particularly the establishment of a central bank.

The speech foreshadowed legislation amending the Excise act, possibly to reduce the gallonage tax on liquor; the Companies act, possibly to consolidate it on a Dominion-wide basis with the aid of the provinces; the Judges act and the Elections act.

The world wheat agreement, designed to remove abnormal supplies from the market and regulate acreage, will be tabled in the house, the speech indicated. There was no mention of the St. Lawrence waterways treaty, now before the United States senate for ratification.

The entire Excise act will be revised and re-written; department of national revenue officials have been working on this statute for months and it will be brought up to date. Much of this legislation has become somewhat obsolete in its terms.

It will be revised in keeping with modern trends of business and terminology although no great changes are anticipated in its application. The question of lower excise taxes on liquor or on any other commodities, will be a matter for the budget, expected late in February.

Motor Car Industry

U.S. Producers Speeding Up Output To Meet Demand

Detroit.—An accumulation of orders from dealers such as the United States motor car industry has not experienced for more than three years and presaging a first quarter output of cars and trucks totalling upward of $500,000,000 in value was revealed as producers devoted efforts to stepping up factory capacity.

Ever since the huge over-production of 1929 the industry has been endeavoring to level off production to absolute retail demand. To-day it found itself far behind the demand of its dealer organization.

Trade With Russia

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau opened federal talks to Soviet Russian gold. It was one of three important orders affecting trade with newly-recognized Russia. The other two lifted prohibitions against Russian lumber and pulp wood because of convict labor production and against Russian matches because of dumping.

Garage Roof Collapses

Winnipeg.—The roof of a public garage caved in beneath weight of snow, burying 35 automobiles. Duncan E. Campbell, partner in the garage business, and Fred Bull risked injury to drive off 15 cars before the weakened roof gave way. Fire, caused by a short circuit following the collapse, caused several thousand dollars damage before it was quelled.

Fraudulent Sales Tactics

Winnipeg.—Complaints that Manitobans have been victimized by long distance telephone high pressure stock sales tactics are being investigated by the municipal public utility board. W. R. Cottingham, K.C., chairman, announced.

Stronger French Fleet

French Naval Minister Urges Speedy Building Of Powerful Ship
Paris.—Naval Minister Albert Sarraut answered Chancellor Adolf Hitler's inquiry as to where France stood on the navy question by advocating a French fleet stronger than those of Germany and Italy together.

During a secret session of the chamber of deputies' naval committee the former premier urged the speedy building of another Dunkirk to balance Germany's three Deutschland.

The Dunkirk, a man-of-war of 26,000 tons, and with 230-mm. guns and a speed of 29 knots, was rushed to the stocks after Germany brought out her 10,000-ton "pocket battleship" of the Deutschland type.

M. Sarraut said the French tonnage is now greater than the German and Italian combined, but inferior in quality.

He emphasized the need for superiority by proposing, as his own idea—not yet submitted to the French cabinet—an additional 250,000,000-franc (currently about $15,000,000) two-year program of building destroyers for the protection of Pacific possessions Madagascar, and Indo-China.

Uniform Companies Act

Expect Legislation To Be Elected For All Provinces

Winnipeg.—Adoption of a uniform companies act in all provinces of the Dominion can be expected following a conference of legal officers of the various provinces in Ottawa next March, Hon. W. J. Major, K.C., attorney-general, said, following his return from the Ottawa Dominion-provincial conference.

Mr. Major said the legislation was expected to be introduced in the house of commons before the end of the coming session and at least several of the provinces would be able to pass the act in their 1934 sessions. Definite agreement on the new companies act was reached at the Ottawa conference, he said.

Inherits Large Estate

Vancouver Man Going To England To Claim Fortune

Vancouver.—Ernest Kellett Long, 58, who came to British Columbia more than 30 years ago, will return to England to claim a Norfolk estate inherited from his bachelor uncle, Porteus Kellett Long, and valued at more than $150,000.

Long came to Canada in 1890. After five years on a Saskatchewan farm he came to British Columbia and mined for a time near Atlin. Later he came to Vancouver, where he has lived for the past 25 years.

The estate he inherits is Dunstan Hall, four miles from Norwich, in Norfolk. It includes 3,555 acres of farm land and $32,000.

Cities Of Youth

Interesting Statistics Gathered Relating To Age Of Population

Ottawa.—Three Rivers in Quebec and Sydney in Nova Scotia are the cities of youth in Canada, according to census figures just compiled by the Dominion bureau of statistics. In both these cities 46 per cent. of the population in 1931 was under the age of 20 years. At the other end of the list was Victoria, where only 28 per cent. of the people had yet to see their 20th birthday.

The prairie provinces showed up better than Ontario. Regina led the list with 38.94 per cent. and Edmonton followed closely with 38.45. Winnipeg had 35 per cent. under 20, Calgary 34 and the average was 30.

Economy Is Necessary

Toronto.—Government economy that guarantees the national credit and protects the private investor against "the combination of depreciation," is the only solution of Canada's depression problem, Floyd S. Chalmers, editor of the Financial Post, declared in addressing members of the Canadian Construction association at their convention here.

More Marriages Last Year

Ottawa.—Marriage license bureaus and clergymen found business picking up last year but undertakers and obstetricians had less to do. From 70 cities in Canada reporting vital statistics to the Dominion bureau of statistics came reports of more marriages than a year ago but fewer births and fewer deaths.

Lone Winter Patrol

Mounted Police To Investigate Smelter Reports From North

The Pas.—A lone winter patrol of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police rushed through the north country, en route to Lac du Brochet trading post, where minister and vague reports have aroused fears that a freight or "Camelback" ship's death has occurred among the Chipewyan Indians of the Barren Lands.

Griety tales of a demented Indian being tied to a dog sled by companions have been relayed "outside". He was left throughout the night in the bitter cold until he froze to death.

It is to investigate the source of the reports and possibly arrest tribal leaders responsible for the crime that Sgt. Percy Rose, veteran musher, is making the cold 250-mile trip north to the distant Indian camps of Burntwood Bay and Reindeer Lake, on the fringe of the Northwest Territories.

Mounties Meet Old Timers

Members of 1874 Force Recalled From Calgary Barracks

Calgary.—Members of the North West Mounted Police of 1874 saluted the men of the force—now the Royal Canadian Mounted Police—of 1934 at the annual round-up of the Southern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers' Association. Col. James Walker, G. C. King and John Heron, who helped police the plains in '74 greeted Redcoats from the Calgary barracks, of today. Mrs. Alex. Matheson, of Card, headed the pioneers, "roll call"—the oldest pioneer present. She came to Alberta in 1869.

PUBLIC WORKS PLAN FOR RELIEF ACROSS CANADA

Toronto.—Initial expenditures of $50,740,000 in eight provinces, of which Ontario and Quebec receive the greatest portions, and of which substantially all will be spent in construction of provincial and federal buildings, form the principles of the "moderate plan of public relief work" which Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was quoted as forecasting, the Mail and Empire was authoritatively informed.

The plan, it was stated, represents the work of 20 regional committees scattered across Canada, in co-operation with a central committee at the headquarters in Toronto.

"Under its proposals, division of the total will be as follows apportioned by provinces: British Columbia, $3,840,000; Alberta, $3,215,000; Saskatchewan, $3,975,000; Manitoba, $4,484,000; Ontario, $17,560,000; Quebec, $13,366,800; New Brunswick, $2,075,000; Nova Scotia, $2,425,000; Prince Edward Island, no apportionment so far."

Works will not include housing, deep waterways, nor road construction. The Mail and Empire was informed, but will be devoted entirely to construction of new buildings and rehabilitation of present buildings.

EXPERT ATTENDS NEWFOUNDLAND'S STAMP FRAUD TRIAL

Mr. Cyril Harmer, famous British stamp expert, has sailed for St. John's, Newfoundland, to give evidence in a case of alleged forgery of postage stamps. This is believed to be the first time that a member of the stamp trade in Great Britain has been asked to go to one of the Dominions for such a purpose. Three arrests have been made in Newfoundland in connection with the case, which is being brought by the Newfoundland Government. One of the defendants is charged with attempting to obtain about $30,000 from Mr. Harmer by offering to sell him forged overprinted copies of the Italian Air Armada stamps. Here we see Mr. Cyril Harmer examining stamps in his office.

Quebec May Decide To Organize Lottery

But Amendment To Criminal Code Would Be Required

Quebec.—Seeing no valid reason why the provincial government should be tied to the Dominion parliament in respect to the organization of lotteries, Premier L. A. Taschereau told the legislative assembly here, that "perhaps" the Quebec government would organize a lottery of its own for charitable and educational purposes.

If indications were given that such was the will of the house, legislation to this effect would be tabled, he declared. The premier hoped that as a result of the Dominion-provincial conference an amendment to the criminal code would permit this province to hold a lottery if it saw fit.

Areas In India Devastated

Months Before Number Killed In Earthquake Will Be Known

Calcutta.—An appalling toll beyond any previously hinted may be reached in India's earthquake dead. It was indicated when the Rajah of Monghyr said deaths in Monghyr alone have reached 25,000.

It will be months, he added, before ruins can be removed to reveal the innumerable bodies buried by the earthquakes which shook the region during the important mela festival of Eidul Fitr. The rajah predicted two generations will pass before the devastated areas can be rehabilitated. (The district of Monghyr is in northeastern India in the Bhagalpur division of Bihar and Orissa. It has an area of 3,927 square miles and is divided by the Ganges.)

Wheat Acreage Reduction

No Compulsion For Saskatchewan Farmers States Premier Anderson

Regina.—Farmers of Saskatchewan will not be faced by any compulsory wheat acreage reduction legislation, according to Premier J. T. M. Anderson.

Details of the plan have not yet been announced, but Hon. M. A. MacPherson, attorney-general, stated on his return from Ottawa that the government would launch an educational campaign as a means of meeting the principle involved in the international wheat agreement.

According to reports from Ottawa during the Dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa, Canada is faced with the necessity of lopping 4,000,000 acres off its wheat area.

Details as to how this policy will be interpreted in relation to Saskatchewan will be announced shortly by Mr. MacPherson.

Ask Britain For Suggestions

Stalemate Between France And Germany May Be Settled

London.—An invitation to the British government to formulate definite suggestions designed to lead to a settlement of the disarmament stalemate, it was learned authoritatively, was contained in a German reply to British arms inquiries of a month ago.

Although official circles did not comment on this connection, it was recognized in some political circles that acceptance of this bid would, in effect, more or less place the British government in a position of attempting to bridge the gap between the French and German views.

Must Leave Greece

Samuel Insull Told It Is Necessary To Seek New Refuge

Athens.—The supreme state council and the minister of the interior agreed that Samuel Insull must leave Greece and seek a new refuge from attempts to extradite him to the United States.

The council rejected the former Chicago utilities operator's plea to stay here longer than January 31 and order him to pay the cost of recent proceedings so as to "maintain the existing good relations between the United States and Greece."

NAVAL OFFICIALS DELIBERATE ON VITAL PROBLEMS

Singapore, Straits Settlements—

While deep secrecy surrounded the deliberations of high British naval officials aboard the cruiser Kent at this British naval base, there was a belief the discussions might result in decisions on policy of great importance to the empire and the world.

It is known the future of Singapore as a naval base, in the light of maintenance of communications between England, Australia and New Zealand and the far east, is under discussion. There was a tendency to believe the conclusions reached by the naval officials might eventually result in a decision on the part of British authorities to actively pursue construction work for the most part suspended in recent years.

Despite the bare announcement of the admiralty in London the conference is an automatic and routine affair, the gathering continued to excite keen interest. There seemed good reason to believe the admirals would authoritatively recommend the modernization of Singapore as a powerful naval base, although this would not in any way mean a change in the traditional policy of local defence.

Prospecting By Air

Noted British Aviators Will Search For Gold In Desert

London.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's automobile speed record, and Sir Alan Cobham, noted British airman, will leave London shortly on an aerial quest for gold in the waterless Kalbari desert, the Daily Mail announced.

They proposed to alight in the desert and use the plane as a base from which to explore on foot with the assistance of a geologist whom they will take with them.

WHEAT QUOTA PLAN APPROVED BY FARMERS

Winnipeg.—Reduction of wheat acreage, but actual enforcement of Canada's wheat quota of 200,000,000 bushels through the medium of a selling quota for individual farmers, was anticipated by many of western Canada's 300,000 farmers.

At meetings of farmers' locals in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the wheat agreement signed at London, Eng., limiting exports of grain by major producing countries, has been the chief topic of discussion. Although the federal government has yet to announce how the quota is to be made effective, the selling limit based on a five-year average is anticipated.

In brief, the expectation in numerous sources is that the government will take the average production of the past five years on individual farms on a quarter-section basis. Through this medium the export of wheat would be kept within the 200,000,000 bushel limit, world markets would be under virtual control, and a higher and more stabilized price would be achieved.

A selling certificate citing the total which the individual farmer might sell is anticipated, with each delivery of wheat by the farmer to the elevator being marked off by the grain company agent when the delivery is made.

As a means of permitting a distressed or bail-out farmer to take part in the selling of wheat, the farm locals anticipate permission of the government to the individual farmer to deal who may have produced more wheat than he would be permitted to sell under his selling certificate.

Thus, the farmer who lost his crop through one means or another might be permitted to sell his selling certificate to the farmer who had more wheat than he could sell on his own certificate, or else he might buy wheat from the excess production of his neighbor and sell it under his own selling certificate.

Any production of wheat in excess of the individual farmer's right under his selling certificate would either have to be destroyed or disposed of in some manner not affecting world wheat figures. Feeding to poultry or livestock is anticipated as the most likely means of disposing of the excess.

While many farm organizations have failed to give enthusiastic support of any acreage reduction plan, curtailment of wheat production through a quota system won approval. Delegates to the annual meetings of the Manitoban, Saskatchewan and Alberta wheat pools voted approval of the London agreement as a means of limiting production and effecting higher and more stabilized wheat prices.

Using Cull Dairy Cattle

Surplus Beef In California Will Be Canned For Relief Food

San Francisco.—California's surplus dairy cows and steer beef, totalling approximately 12,000 head, will be slaughtered during the next three months, cooked and canned for distribution to unemployed under the direction of the state emergency relief administration.

The transaction, which will entail the expenditure of $320,000, has been endorsed by the California Cattleman's association and the California dairy council as direct stimulus to their industries. R. C. Branson, state administrator, estimated the transaction will consume most of the available cull dairy cattle in the state.

Cancer Menace Increasing

Montreal.—Cancer is constantly increasing, Dr. J. E. Gendrea, director of the Radium Institute of Montreal, warned in an address here. "We are apparently waging a losing battle against the most terrible plague assailing humanity," he declared. Establishment of radium institutes he regarded as the best means of fighting the disease.

Earthquake In China

Shanghai.—A earthquake shook the province of Shanxi and Suiyuan, destroying buildings and burying persons in the debris, said semi-official reports reaching here. The extent of the damage was not known but it was believed that loss of life was small.

DO YOU EVER HAVE ANY TROUBLE COL-LECTING ACCOUNTS?

Get so that you almost lose faith in human nature—when people you have always looked on as friends—people to whom you have delivered valuable service regularly—just seem to literally quit on you. Just seem actually deaf and wholly dumb as far as you are concerned.

You write them good naturally—pleadingly appealing to their sense of justice—their knowledge of what is a square deal and—you just simply can't get a word out of them.

What do you do to—will surely appreciate a hint as to how you handle these people? You know many of them are actually friends of yours, customers who get big value out of the service or product you give them, and yet month after month they continue to accept your service, apparently "forgetting" that it requires money to keep your business up to the mark that enables you to render just this service they are regularly getting so much out of.

It's tough—isn't it? We'll say it is, and if you can just give us a little tip, just a hint, of how you finally persuade these friends of yours to come across, (we are really in earnest in this request) you are going to do us a big favor.

May we look for a speedy reply? Here's hoping so, and our thanks in advance.

Yours very truly,
Red Deer Advocate.
We too would like a solution to this very knotty problem and would appreciate it if the Advocate would reproduce any solution it may arrive at.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mrs. B. Saynor entertained a number of friends at her home on Monday evening last, when a very pleasant time was had.

Mrs. L. Dambois is visiting her husband, who is a patient at the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary.

The Bellevue Oddfellows entertained the grand master of the Alberts Grand Lodge, Bro. McPherson, last week end, when a number of representatives from other lodges of the district were present.

The Burns' anniversary banquet, held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Thursday evening, was one of the most successful yet held here. The attendance was very large. Andrew Petrie locked horns with the bagpipes and rendered several enlivening selections. The banquet tables were laden with everything one could desire from turkey to haggis. In fact, we think it was "Jock" Hogan who stated he had never tasted haggis so good since leavin' the land of heather some fifty years ago. Dave Gillespie, one of the speakers, said that on one occasion the late King Edward VII. sent haggis to Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, and "Bill" immediately inquired of what it was made, it was so good, and demanded the recipe. He was told it consisted of portions of sawdust and cement, with other minor ingredients, clumsily mixed. The following was the programme: toast, "The King," the chairman; song, "The Star o' Rabbie Burns," Rev. A. E. Larke; song, "There Was a Lad Born in Kyle," the choir; toast, "The Immortal Memory," Rev. John Wood; song, "The Auld Scotch Songs," Mrs. Hallworth; song, "The Lass o' Ballochmyle," Mr. Albert Christie; toast, "Canada," Rev. Father Donovan; song, a verse of "O Canada," company; song, selected, Miss Audrey Martin; recitation, "Burns' Pride of Scots," Mrs. Holmes; song, "Sons o' Bonnie Scotland," Mr. I. Hutson; toast, "Scotland," Mr. A. Hallworth; song, selected, Mrs. Cranston; song, selected, Rev. Mr. Larke; toast, "The Lassies," Mr. J. Shewels, with response by Mrs. Curry; song, "Duncan Gray," choir; toast, "Our Guests," Mr. C. R. Ritchie, with response by Rev. Roy C. Taylor. "Auld Lang Syne." As a special number during the dance which followed the banquet, Miss Janet Cranston gave the Sword Dance and Miss Grace Penman was also seen in classy dancing.

The car of Milo Fuller, foreman at the Riverside Iron Works, Calgary, was stolen by a young runaway couple at a early hour on Friday morning last, and following a chase by police down the Macleod trail, was overtaken near Graman, where the pair, a lad of 21 and a girl of 15, were placed under arrest and brought back to Calgary, where they face a charge of theft of the car.

Through the efforts of the Army & Navy Veterans of Canada, Drumheller branch, the Alberta Amateur indoor speed skating championships will be held at the Drumheller arena on Wednesday, February 14th. Among the events listed are: Senior men—220 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards, two-mile, and in the case of a tie for points; ½-mile race to determine the champion; intermediate (men under 18)—220 yards, 880 yards, 1 mile, and if necessary, 440 yards determining race; junior boys (under 16)—440 and 880; juvenile boys (under 14)—220 and 440; midget boys (under 12)—220; senior ladies—440 and 880; intermediate ladies (under 18)—440 and 880; junior girls (under 16)—440; juvenile girls (under 14)—440; midget girls (under 12)—220.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mr. Mansell, father of Mrs. J. Ironmonger, Mrs. F. Lote and Mr. J. Mansell, of Hillcrest, passed away at his home in England on January the 11th.

J. Mackie returned from Seattle, where he attended the funeral of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Sick. Mrs. Mackie stopped over at Fernie, to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. W. Kovach entertained a number of friends at a bridge drive on Wednesday evening.

Agnes Carmello returned to her home in Coleman this week, after spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Aitken, of Fernie, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackie.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Hillcrest Mines-School District was held on Monday, but owing to the school room not being large enough to accommodate those wishing to be present, the meeting was postponed to next week, when it will be held in the Union hall.

A very interesting exhibition of paintings and works of art was given by the Alberta Institute of Technology and Art on Wednesday and Thursday last in the Union hall here. Lectures on art were delivered by Mr. Garner, of Banff, and Miss Brown, of Macleod.

A very successful concert and dance was held on Monday evening in the Union hall, under auspices of the Hillcrest Slavonic Society. The Band-its' orchestra was in attendance.

One of the largest conventions of the year for Lethbridge is that of the Order of Eastern Star, which will take place June 5, 6 and 7. It is expected 500 delegates will attend.

Reph C. Jessup, editor of the Macleod Gazette, who has been operating the plant under lease since taken over by him some years ago, has decided to purchase the plant outright, and the deal was put through last week.

The old cottage in which lived Capt. Cook, the great navigator, is being taken to Australia and will be erected in the grounds of the National Art gallery at Melbourne. Capt. Cook is to Australia what Columbus is to America. It was Cook who planted the British flag in Australia.

Nineteen years ago next April, Joseph Little started erection of a handsome cottage on the north side of the river. About the same time Contractor A. G. Trelle, of Coleman, father of the well known grain prize winner of today, Herman Trelle, started construction of a three-story addition to the Blairmore hotel.

The following is a young British scholar's idea of a cow: "The cow is a domestic animal, all covered with leather. Her tail, which hangs at the end, has a brush in order to shoo ox flies. The head is in front, and has horns growing on each side, and allows room for her mouth. The horns are used for fighting and the mouth to roar with. Near Alberta, in Australia, hundreds of cows run about wild and are called "basins".

Because a newspaper publishes letters from subscribers it does not necessarily follow that we agree or disagree with them. The Voice of the People is simply an outlet for the public expression of opinion, apart altogether from what the newspaper may publish. It provides a blow-off station for the community ills and grievances. The Courier has been accused of being sensational at times. Perhaps we are, but we are not one-tenth as sensational as some chin-waggers who offer the criticism. Because the Ten Commandments are violated even more than was prohibition in the United States, is no reason why they should be repealed.

Did you ever hear about the Scotch woman who, rather than pay fifteen cents for whipped cream, went out to the barn and whipped the cow before milking her.

Joseph Morgan, aged sixty-six, former inspector of schools for the Lethbridge and Macleod inspectorates, died at Lethbridge on Saturday morning last. He had been ill for some time.

H. Moran, formerly on the staff of the Strathmore Standard, who is playing with the Macleod hockey team, was a caller on the Enterprise on Friday last, prior to their exhibition game with the Coleman Canadians that night.

Hon. W. H. Cushing, Calgary planner and lumber manufacturer, died on Thursday evening last, following an illness of many months. He was sixty-one years of age, and former member of the Alberta legislature. Surviving are three brothers, George, of Moose Jaw; A. B., of Vancouver, and A. T., of Edmonton; a daughter, Mrs. F. F. Higgs, of Victoria, and his wife.

Nearly 125 million pounds of beef on the hoof were exported from Alberta during 1933, as compared with about 111 million pounds in 1932. This estimate is based on the export of 123,428 head of cattle, as compared with 96,701 head in 1932. The total export of horses from the province in 1933 was 16,182 head, compared with 14,546 head in 1932. The figures are preliminary, subject to some revision when total returns have been received by the provincial department of agriculture.

A woman asked us a few days ago why Bill Knight was never caught in the old blind-pig days. Well, it's not the first time such question has been asked.

Immediate legislation for the abolition of beer parlors in Alberta was requested by the United Farmers of Alberta, in closing their twenty-sixth annual convention in Edmonton, January 26th.

Never in the history of the town of Blairmore has so much of the ratepayers' money been sent out of town as now. Printing offices at Calgary and Winnipeg are reaping the benefit of taxes paid in Blairmore for the upkeep of the town.

A visit to Kingston Penitentiary by Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D., formed the basis of an interesting talk to the Belleville Rotary Club, January 15th. Dr. Bryce related his impressions and his ideas of possible changes in administration of the institution, tending to make the reform of a criminal more important than the punishment.

A new military oath, in harmony with the new state, has been authorized by the German cabinet. It reads: "I swear by God and this holy oath that I shall loyally and honorably serve the people and the fatherland always, and that as an obedient and courageous soldier I shall be ready at all times to sacrifice my life for this oath."

George said that immediately after the spark of life fled from a dearly beloved work horse on Wednesday last week, an Asa Press correspondent was there to get particulars.

A successful whist drive was held by the Women of Moose in the lodge hall last night. The beautiful rug, the handwork of Mrs. Hurlburt, of Coleman, was drawn for, Mrs. Boutry, of Bellevue, being the holder of the lucky ticket.

Colonel Del Marsh, pharmacist; his brother Earl, Canadian Pacific official; and J. W. Chilton, student, were witnesses, prepared to swear to the facts, that they had seen a huge serpent off Gonzales point, near Victoria, recently. The serpent was being pursued by seagulls that were pecking at it. It seized one, according to their account, and dived, eventually disappearing out to sea.

Prices for butterfat and for hogs have reached during the last week the highest levels of the past three seasons. Prices for butterfat during the second week in January were three cents a pound higher than those prevailing at the same time last year, and one cent a pound higher than those of two years ago. Hog prices, reaching a point of $7.75 for bacon at Edmonton were the highest in three seasons.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

The tendency to glorify war in the school text books was denounced by Dr. Terence W. L. McDermott, secretary of the League of Nations Society, Toronto.

"Sunshine Inn," free dining room in Victoria, B.C., celebrated its second birthday on January 4 with a record of 200,000 meals served to the needy.

The "Life of Our Lord," which Charles Dickens wrote for his children, may be published after all. An offer of $50,000 was reported to have been made for the book.

Claimed to be the fastest war vessel afloat, a new type of torpedo craft, capable of a speed of 55 knots, is under trial at Saint-Nazaire, France.

British Columbia beef cattle growers have gone on record as favoring a national marketing board, it has been announced by J. A. Grant, provincial commissioner.

Churchill's first public "stoppage place" will be erected at the northern airport next spring. Harry Olenky, northern pioneer and hotelman, announced he received a permit from the Manitoba government for the Churchill structure.

Described as one of the most valuable historic relics discovered in the northwest, a medallion left by Capt. James Cook, Pacific northwest and Antipodes explorer, when he landed at Nootka, Vancouver island, 1778, has been found.

Completion by the government of Canada of a special chamber at the port of London for use in the handling of Canadian chilled and frozen meat products was announced by Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce.

British Columbia's agricultural products, despite disastrously low prices, were worth $34,466,000 in 1933, a slight gain over the 1932 figure of $34,373,923, according to a year-end estimate, released by Hon. R. C. MacDonald, minister of agriculture.

Lewis Lukes, pioneer Canadian railroad builder, is dead at Toronto at the age of 80 years. He was associated with Mackenzie and Mann in construction of the Canadian Pacific railway through the Rockies and in completing the Canadian Northern railway.

The success of the League of Nations depended on the development in each country of strong movements that would support the ideal of international co-operation. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, president of the League of Nations Society in Canada, said in an address at Ottawa.

Too Hard On Roadbed

Speedy Trains Are Not Put Into Regular Service

A train which travels so quickly that its high speed is still in advance of practical use is an anomaly, but Germany possesses it today in the electrical "Flying Hamburger," and it is of interest to note that thirty years ago speeds unequalled in the world were achieved by electrical trains built by English electric companies. On September 15, 1903, a speed of 124.8 miles an hour was reached, and this was increased on October 27 to 130.6 miles. Technical difficulties, especially connected with the roadbed, were responsible for the fact that these trains were not put into regular service. There was also no popular demand at that time for such rapid travel. The record of 142.9 miles made by the "Zeppelin on rails" two years ago, still stands unchallenged as the world's record for travel on rails, but the speed is too high for practical use.

Starts Fiftieth Reading

Mrs. Belle Gilham, 88, of Fort Scott, Kas., has begun her 50th reading of the Bible and she plans to finish next Christmas Eve, just as she has done for 43 consecutive years. For good measure she has thrown in six other complete readings by following her weekly Sunday School lesson. Mrs. Gilham completed her 49th reading at the home of a daughter in Springfield, Missouri, on Christmas Eve.

Alberta Phone System

Government Would Sell Lines To Farmers' Organizations

Running behind at the rate of a million dollars a year on its telephone system, the Alberta government is negotiating with a large number of farmers' organizations in an effort to sell its rural lines. One sale has been completed, a group of farmers west of Bentley taking over the lines and telephones in that area.

The rural lines may be purchased at sacrifice prices. Poles in the grounds, including anchors, cross-arms, side block, insulator and other accessories are offered at 30 cents apiece. Iron wire will be sold at a cent a pound, or about $3.40 for a mile of line (two wires).

Could Prevent War

Blumenfeld States Britain And United States Have Power

Ralph D. Blumenfeld, chairman and editor of the London Express, says with some force that talk of war in Europe is "hunk" and that Britain and United States, "standing shoulder to shoulder," could prevent any war from starting.

It is true. If the British Empire and the United States who held the bag and paid the bills in the late lamented war were to refuse to come into another one, physically or financially, no nation in Europe would fight—Vancouver Sun.

International Trade

Nations Have Always Exchanged Goods That Were Similar

While we are waiting for Siam to become self-sufficient in optical instruments and Iceland its salt, it turns out that France, the land of flowers and wine, finds it necessary to import her apples and pears from the United States. So perhaps the nations may yet continue to find things which they can profitably exchange among themselves, not only fruit for cotton or silk for copper, but actually fruit for fruit and even kind of silk for another kind of silk. At least men have been exchanging such things since the dawn of history.—New York Times.

Moisture Conservation

Hon. James F. Bryant, K.C., chairman of the Saskatchewan Commission on Conservation and Afforestation, has announced particulars of a statement which he felt—

- (1) would result in the desired cultivation of what acreage;
- (2) would retain the moisture and prevent the drying out of the land by hot winds;
- (3) would help to keep the roads open in winter;
- (4) would furnish a wool supply for every farm;
- (5) would provide a shelter for birds, which would assist in keeping down the nest pests;
- (6) would add to the beauty and attractiveness of the landscape;
- (7) would help very materially to bring back normal rainfall to the drought-stricken areas of the province.

This could be accomplished by the planting of trees in strips ten rods wide running East and West, and North and South, through every farm section of land in the prairie districts of Saskatchewan.

If all the trees now growing on the Forestry Farms at Indian Head and Sutherland, and on the Provincial Institutional Farms at Battleford, Prince Albert, Regina, Mooseomin and Weyburn, were made available for this purpose and an additional very large acreage put in next spring for this drive, through the co-operation of the Federal and Provincial Governments, a very large start could be made in the proposal during the first season.

The prospects are that there will be plenty of moisture in the next few years so that the trees would get a good start and grow rapidly. It is essential that the lessons of the dry years be not forgotten, and provision made during the wet years

Ancient Irrigation System

One In Yucatan Superior To Any Built By Egyptians

Constructed hundreds of years ago by Mayan engineers of the ancient Yucatan, a storage and irrigation system in the Yucatan area is to be restored and put back into service by the Mexican Government. The intricate network of underground canals is said to be superior to that of the ancient Egyptians. Reservoirs of the system were lined by the Mayan engineers with waterproofed stone and plaster, as were the aqueducts, branch canals and drainage channels. Thus enough water was stored during the rainy season for use during the rest of the year.

Tree studies in Colorado's Rocky Mountain region indicate that there has been little change in climate for the past 400 years.

Mexico's population is 16,552,722, the Department of Commerce announces.

that are immediately to follow to combat any returning periods of drought, with all available scientific knowledge.

The Government could make a contract with each farmer in the dried out area, to summerfallow a strip ten rods wide, each year, through the centre of the section of land, and cultivate the trees for ten years after they are planted, and at the same time keep the stock out of the young trees. In consideration of this agreement, the Government could furnish the trees and set them out the year following the summerfallow of the land. The strip could consist of half quick-growing trees and half ash, elm and fir trees planted alternately.

The contract could provide that in the event the farmer or tenant failed to cultivate the trees, the Municipal Council could have the work done and charge up the taxes against the land.

Where the farmers' boundaries are in the centre of the section, each farmer could take care of the roads of timber on his own land. The proposed plan will utilize ten acres on each quarter section. This acreage taken from cultivation in order to comply with the terms of the "Wheat agreement" could not be employed to greater advantage.

The snow will drift into the timber and thus be in the centre of the section and away from the roads, so that they could be kept open during the winter at minimum cost.

The snow banks in the spring will melt by degrees in the timber after the frost gets out of the surface of the ground so that the water will not run away on the frozen surface but will sink into the ground and help build up the reserve of moisture in the soil.

This plan has recently been suggested by an expert in the United States and fits in exactly with the Saskatchewan proposal to remedy conditions in the drought area in the years that are to come.

Explanations And Comments

True Treasures, verses 19-21. When Jesus bids one lay not up for himself treasures upon the earth, his statement is not to be taken literally; he is not speaking against wise provision for the future here on earth, but is contrasting the value of earthly and heavenly things. Rather than avariciously to store up treasures on earth, which may be destroyed by moth or rust or stolen by thieves, he counsels one to lay up for himself treasures in heaven, which are indestructible. Whittier puts the thought into verse:

"Before the Ender comes, whose chariotier Is swift or slow Disease, lay up Each year Thy harvest of well-doing, wealth that things Nor thieves can take away. When all the things Thou callest thine—goods, pleasures, honors—fall, Thou art as he who shall survive them all."

"We have cast anchor just for a little while beside this island of world, but we are bound for the Continent of 'Immortality,'" said Francis W. Willard, "and since the ship must so soon lift its anchor, since its gleaming sails beckon us now even as a friend's hand toward yonder fair and mystical horizon, let us take on board a cargo which shall be worth something in the country where we are to spend the long eternal time."

For where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. "The heart follows the treasure as the needle follows the loadstone, or the sunflower the sun."—(Matthew Henry).

New York's Latest Idea

City To Have Reproduction Of Solar System In Miniature

The New York Evening Post says: "Heaven has been a long time coming to New York. In fact, it isn't here yet."

But it's scheduled for the spring of next year.

It's an "artificial heaven"—a reproduction of the solar system in miniature. And it's to be placed in the planetarium building to be constructed by the Museum of Natural History on the Eighty-first street side of its grounds on Central Park West.

Crowning the two-story structure will be a dome having a diameter of seventy-five feet. At the base of the dome the horizon will represent the skyline of New York in silhouette.

Before the eyes of the onlookers will be unfolded the mighty pageant of the skies.

"The inverted bowl," in the words of Dr. George H. Sherwood, director of the museum, "becomes a stage where the tremendous drama of the heavens, with an 'all-star cast', is presented within the short span of an hour."

Even a heaven—at least, an artificial heaven—has to be financed.

New York's is to be made possible partly by a bond issue of $650,000 to be purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and partly by a gift of $150,000 from Charles Hayden. The RFC money pays for the building and Mr. Hayden's gift provides the canopy of stars. Hence the announcement that the name of the structure is to be "The Hayden Planetarium."

Star-gazing will be a thrilling experience in New York's artificial heaven.

Weighing A Ship

Gross Register And Displacement Have To Be Figured

The tonnage of a vessel is of two kinds. First there is the gross register. This means the cubic capacity of the ship's hull added to that of all erections on deck, but excluding space occupied by machinery. This is calculated in units of 100 cubic feet—the Board of Trade ton.

Secondly there is displacement, which gives the vessel's actual weight. The part of the ship under water is measured and the weight of water that would occupy its place is calculated.

Debit Is Too Heavy

Public Bodies And Corporations: Of Canada Carrying Big Load

The following article is from the Macmillan Report: Between 1900 and 1913 the total indebtedness of the public bodies and corporations of Canada rose to over two billions of dollars. It is not sufficiently realized that it has grown by over 300 per cent. since 1914. Nor is it true that the war was largely responsible for this. By 1919 the total had risen from 2 to 3.7 billions only. Moreover, the actual increase in the burden of debt since 1928 is much greater, because of the fall in prices, than expansion from 7.4 to 8.6 billions of dollars would indicate.

Were this debt held wholly in Canada it would still bear heavily enough on the producer. But the fact that much of the money came from abroad has involved the country in an external debt problem of great magnitude as well. It is clear that all the elements of the Canadian economy must be highly efficient and its natural wealth be abundant if such a burden is to be borne and the population is to continue to enjoy the high standard of living characteristic of North America.

People Still Inventing

Exhibits At Minnesota Show Are Unique As Usual

Inventors are inventing things, no matter what the morrow brings—things ranging from rubber shoes to hair tonics. They are on display at the Minnesota Inventors' Show in Minneapolis, where D. C. Jones proudly exhibits a material he says will make the grass grow green by just sprinkling it on the lawn. For layabouts who want the extra minute sleep in the morning, there's a pair of rubber shoe leaces that never have to be tied or untied. Just slip your feet in the shoes and presto! A Negro has concocted what he claims is a substance that will take the kink out of hair. A white gentleman exhibited a device to put the kink back. One can take one's choice.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By
KONA ROSS WEBSTER

Author of "Jettie," "Lipstick
Girl" Etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Worth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter's Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former room-mate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Avis is startled, and Camilla's mother likewise. Camilla decides that she must leave the home of her adopted parents immediately and go to live with Rose, her sister, who is a file clerk in a business house. They decide to take an apartment.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"Well, you win the scholarship and go abroad, and that will give me a chance with your girl," stive.

"What girl?"

"The rich little dame we quarrelled over."

"Camilla?"

"Sure. Lord, she's a beauty, though."

"She's my wife," Peter announced calmly.

"What?" Gus shouted. His incredulity and consternation surpassed even Mrs. Hoyt's. "Tell me something I can believe."

"Believe it or not."

"When?" he demanded.

"Don't you ever read the society column in the papers? We were married the day after yesterday, but it was announced only last week. We finally obtained the Hoyt blessing after keeping it a secret as long as we could."

"What a break for you! I guess I came to the right place for help; all right. You live over there in that place?"

"Not much! Neither will Camilla, after this week."

"You don't mean she's comin' here to live with you, in this little room?" he ridiculed.

"No, she wants to live with her sister, until I get going. That was the arrangement from the first."

"Oh, trying a new stunt, to solve the struggle problem of marriage?"

"Just about that. It's Camilla's idea, until I can afford to keep her. She's going to work, too."

"Sure, she thinks that's easy, but it won't last. Not for her, Occasional wife, eh?" he grinned. "Well, I have to hand it to you. That's the kind of wife to have these days—only you don't have to take care of her. But it might be dangerous to have a wife as beautiful as Camilla, so free."

Peter's jaw closed rigidly. "That'll do for you," he said evenly, but the words were like a gavel of warning before an angered god leaps.

Gus stood up casually, but his eyes watched Peter warily. "Well, congratulations, anyway, and good luck. I'll run along now. But how about a loan of ten, just for a few weeks? I wouldn't ask you if I didn't need it like the devil."

"Sorry, Gus, but I haven't ten to my name. I'm just managing to keep myself while I finish this work. After that, I hope to do better."

When Gus had gone, Peter recalled his denial of entering the exhibit, and wondered what it could mean.

And Sylvia misinterpreted him, or had Gus given up the idea after he started? Peter was puzzled.

CHAPTER XXVIII

It was by a strange chain of circumstances that Camilla obtained her position. Of just such chains of linked coincidences is all life formed, and still folk would exclaim over destiny's inexorable cunning as it shapes and forges the connecting links of time and place and character in their consecutive positions. That is why we insist that life is stranger than fiction. We take for granted in life what we refuse to believe possible in the lives of fictitious characters.

The business depression had called upon the Wheathearth Cereal corporation, as upon what corporation had it not? The manufacture of breakfast cereal for robust children was the business that had built the fortune of Hoyt, Alexander Hoyt I. had conceived the original idea, founded the industry and invented the specialized machinery which manufactured this inimitable food for health and vitality. It was Alexander Hoyt II. who now occupied the chair at the head of the table during directors' meetings, and consulted with chief advisers behind a ribbed glass door marked "President."

But there was no Alexander Hoyt III. who would take up the burden of industry and fortune and carry on for a third generation. Perhaps that was why the twinkles of Alexander Hoyt's humor only escaped as far as his eyes and lurked there behind his bifocal spectacles. A young son to add to the problems and pleasures of his youth, and an older one now to shift the burdens of commerce and finance to sturdy shoulders, undoubtedly would have coaxed laughter to his lips, to trace his happier lines upon a careworn face.

Between the burdens of big business at the office and the executive dominance of Amelia Hoyt at home, the laughter had had little chance. Only Camilla had managed occasionally to coax it into the number eyes. Now, the business burdens were doubled, tripled. A crisis was imminent. An efficiency expert was called in. More advertising was the remedy prescribed. Not the prosaic advertising on a small scale, which had been good enough heretofore. Heretofore was not now. Dramatic measures were required. Sensational advertising, something novel and expensive—ballyhoo. How much? Half a million at the least.

To advertise Wheathearth Cereal which retained for eight cents a package? Impossible, preposterous, declared the conservative board of directors of Wheathearth Cereal corporation. Might as well close up shop before they were ruined, anyway. Better to make a graceful retirement than a disgraceful failure.

But, argued the efficiency expert, volume of production was the need and the cure for the present crisis. Only advertising could command volume. The half million invested in advertising would put hundreds to work. It was as endless as a chain letter, advertising experts, artists, copy writers, office auxiliaries, printers, ink manufacturers, paper mill employees, lumberjacks, magazine salesmen, et cetera, ad infinitum.

And in the half idle plants of the Wheathearth Cereal corporation, the new volume of sales would require a full force back at work. That was the answer to all the business troubles. Attract people to buy, give them work with which to earn money to buy, and the thing moved by perpetual motion on its own momentum.

Finally, the expert had his way. He recommended to handle the new advertising program the firm of Weeks and Bowman. The new contract created a furor in that establishment for his contracts were getting to be memories of the past. A new client ready to spend half a million to advertise breakfast cereal—on one condition: that the half million double its returns within a few months. That required something clever, something which would command attention.

Whose attention? Primarily, housewives. But how? Tell them to send their husbands off in the morning with the memory of their breakfast cereal to inspire them for the day? In too many cases, the memory of the breakfast quarrel or Adeline in kid curlers was more predominant.

No, the way to a man's heart might be through his stomach, but the way to a woman's attention was through her children. And if the matter concerned the welfare and happiness of her children, better still.

Juvenile attention, then, was what the new contract required. Weeks and Bowman concluded. The talents of the present staff were reviewed.

But, No, they had no one who filled the specifications. Juveniles—somewhere in the back of Mr. Bowman's mind, a memory stirred. Somewhere—he had seen some darned good juvenile stuff that had arrested his attention. Was it ad copy already published that he had admired—no, wait a minute. It was the little girl who had said that work was great, and she had done a bunch of stuff to submit for samples.

After considerable search, Camilla's name and address were discovered, and she was summoned to the office of Weeks and Bowman. She had planned that morning to look at apartments, rather discouraged, but determined that she would be happier and perhaps more successful when she had taken up her new life with Rose.

Bates had announced the telephone call while she breakfasted in her room. She reached for the telephone listlessly, expecting to decline another invitation for tea, lunch, bridge, golf, theatre, or dinner.

A strange voice greeted her. "Are you a Miss Hoyt who applied for a position with Weeks and Bowman some time ago?" it asked.

"Oh, yes?" Camilla was almost breathless with excitement. Her heart raced wildly.

"This is Mr. Bowman speaking. You showed me some juvenile samples, I believe."

Her beloved park sketches. "Yes, Mr. Bowman."

"Are you working now?"

"No, I'm not," weakly.

"Well, we have a new contract that requires juvenile stuff. I don't know what, yet, but you might help to advise us in the matter. I can't promise you the work, now, because this program will require a lot of consideration. Would you like to come in and talk with us about it?"

"I'd be delighted, Mr. Bowman. When?"

"Make it this morning, can you? The sooner, the better."

"I'll be there in an hour," she promised.

"Fine! You might bring those samples if you will."

Camilla's hands trembled when she replaced the telephone. She leaped to her feet. A dash for the shower. What to wear? The white knitted silk with the red patent belt and trim. Neat, cool, and becoming. Peter had told her she looked like "sugar and spice, and everything nice" in it. Dear Peter, Oh! she had to make good. Juvenile stuff, Mr. Bowman had said. Just what she loved to do! Oh, wasn't life a happy, blessed thing, her heart sang, while her thoughts gyrated in confusion.

Within the hour, she presented herself at the office, carrying her portfolio and betraying none of the tense excitement which struggled within her like the clamor of machines in a gigantic factory.

Mr. Bowman was gracious, shook hands with her and explained, "we'll go right into the other room where the rest can talk with you and see your work," and to Camilla's astonishment, she entered into a conference with the directors of the firm of Weeks and Bowman.

ference with the directors of the firm of Weeks and Bowman.

A third and most breathless surprise was Mr. Bowman's explanation that their new client was the Wheathearth Cereal company. The firm of which Alexander Hoyt was president, would spend a fortune to recover a fortune—and that complicated miracle would be in her hands if she obtained the position. Dared she presume upon her ability so far? Panic seized her for a moment. But common sense came to her rescue.

After all, she reasoned, the issue was not hers to decide. These men were experienced specialists in advertising. If she qualified in their opinion, might she not be as capable of doing the work as anyone who came with their approval? If the project had involved any other concern and its fortune, would she refuse the opportunity thus offered her? Of course not. Then, why not make good for herself and at the same time serve the man who had been her father and who held a secret place in her reserved affections? If she qualified with Weeks and Bowman, and made good, she suspected that he would be immensely pleased. The thought stimulated her conversation and quieted the tumult of her emotions that almost had conquered her when she entered the conference.

Somewhat—she never knew exactly what benevolent forces were summoned to her aid—she survived the ordeal and even escaped with a gratifying sense of triumph. Of course, nothing definite had been decided, but her work had attracted surprised interest and she had promised to submit samples of her own ideas for the campaign as soon as possible for their consideration.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

POURTRAIT OF A GIRL

She is something of a pagan. She is something of a saint. And the combination makes her (As you might imagine) queer.

She has moments touched with laughter.

Cruel as a nymph's could be, Mocking at a luckless astrer From a fountain or a tree.

She has hours still and pensive. Musing in a prayerful mood. When all life, with fret and folly, Seems a fleeting interlude.

She has days of heartless brooding. She has times of wasteful mirth. And the combination makes her Quite the dearest girl on earth.

Flight Over Mount Everest Said Responsible For Earthquake

From the mysterious Himalayan kingdom of Nepal came a new explanation of the earthquake which recently shook all India, causing deaths unofficially estimated at 15,000.

From the tiger-shooting camp of a former maharajah of Nepal, 350 miles west of Katmandu, the capital, came word that followers of the maharajah blamed the recent successful flight of three British aviators over Mt. Everest for the catastrophe. They were reported to declare that the gods of the world's highest mountain, previously unconquered by man, had by the earthquake visitation wreaked vengeance upon humanity for invading their precincts.

Dr. George W. Crile, of Cleveland, a noted medical man, who sees visions and dreams dreams in the laboratory where he investigates the riddle of life and death, told the recent Congress of the American College of Surgeons that the human race would be a much finer and healthier one inside of a century. This is more encouraging than the pronouncements made by some distinguished scientists that the present fast pace of human life would result in an over-increasing number of mentally diseased persons.

HERE'S THAT QUICK WAY TO STOP A COLD

Take 2 Aspirin Tablets. Drink full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

If throat is sore, crush and dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets in half glass of water and gargle according to directions in box.

Almost Instant Relief in This Way

It is recognized as the QUICK-EST, safest, surest way to treat a cold. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get Aspirin Tablets. Aspirin is the trademark of The Bayer Company, Limited, and the name Bayer in the form of a cross, is on each tablet. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Aspirin Tablets dissolve so completely they leave no irritating particles. Get a box of 12 tablets or a bottle of 24 or 100 at any drug store.

Fine Record For Scotland Yard Force During 1933

Scotland Yard had only one unusual murder during 1933, a year which in all probability will be recorded in the most memorable in the history of the Metropolitan police force.

Although the policies of Lord Trenchard, commissioner of police, have been violently assailed and ridiculed in the press and by caricaturists, progress has been made with his unique schemes of reorganization.

The year saw the beginning of what will prove to be a complete reorganization of the whole Scotland Yard administration.

But what has been of more international importance is its initiation of plans for closer co-operation between the detective forces of the Yard and its continental neighbors.

For the first time in history Scotland Yard officers flew to Amsterdam to meet and co-operate with officers from Belgium, France and Germany, and in so doing brought to justice a clever gang of international thieves.

Apart from actual crime the greatest interest was in the alterations that took place within the force itself. Lord Trenchard continued the work begun by Lord Byng of "cleaning" the force, and during the year many officers, some of high rank, were dismissed from the force.

A man always chases a woman until she catches him.

A farm home was destroyed by fire near Burnis on Friday night last.

The "illegal" meeting of ratepayers was adjourned, from Friday night last to Friday night of this week.

The Red Trail Motors have on display the very latest Ford V-8. It is equipped with everything, even the radio.

John Angus McDonald returned from Drumheller last week end, reporting his brother Roddy as considerably improved, following on operation.

Practically every weekly newspaper in the province has the publication of the annual financial statement of their towns and school districts. Apparently the ratepayers of Blaimore are allowing Bill Knight to get away with his petty prejudice against The Enterprise.

At the regular meeting of Livingstone Lodge, K. of P., on Friday night last, officers for the ensuing term were duly installed by Bro. A. Sherring, D.G.C. A. Vejprava is C.C. for the term; T. J. Williams, M. of P., and Bert Sennier, K. of R. & S. Bert is entering upon his twelfth year in that important office.

The Red Deer council favors a reduction in debt inter charges.

Sam S. Savage has been honored by a life membership by Calgary curlers.

Mr. A. Shaw, of the credit department of Swift Canadian Co., Edmonton, was in The Pass this week.

For holding or enjoying a contract with the city of Drumheller, former councillor J. C. Jackson was fined $10 and costs.

If there is such great danger of Turtle Mountain falling, why should the government have undertaken to establish relief camps in the danger zone?

Among the numerous errors in the financial statements of the Town and school district of Blaimore, as circulated by the town council, is this "minor" one: "Total assessed value of school district, $17,630.00." Should have been around $1,763,000.00.

A report comes from Musquodoboit, Nova Scotia, stating that large flocks of Hungarian partridge are seen around the fields and buildings there. A number of people have undertaken to put seeds and other foods out for them and they are very tame, but hawks are playing havoc with them.

Local and General Items

The Editor will be pleased to receive items for this section, regarding visitors entertained, parties leaving for holidays or short trips, bridge parties, teas, etc. Phone items in to 11 or hand them in at The Enterprise office no later than Wednesday evenings.

Dr. V. V. Christie, of Cardston, was a visitor to Blaimore yesterday.

Thirty years ago, on a payday at Fernie, $138,000 was paid out by three collieries.

The fourth session of the seventh legislature of Alberta will open on Thursday next at Edmonton.

Samuel Simister, who has been quite ill for some months past, was taken to Calgary last week end for special treatment.

Some young lad passed a little time on Sunday forenoon whittling the door of the Blaimore Exchange. No doubt, a cigarette kept his brains rattled.

The date of the appearance in Coleman community hall of the Scottish Musical Comedy Co. (return engagement) has been changed to Wednesday, February the 21st.

Commencing February the first, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will operate an improved sleeping car service daily from Calgary to Vancouver, via the Crow.

Died at West Coleman on January the 23rd, Agnes, wife of Mr. Horjosi, following a lengthy illness. She leaves, besides her husband, two young children. The remains were laid to rest on Thursday in the Coleman Catholic cemetery.

Mimeograph notices of a meeting of ratepayers were issued through the postoffice on Friday last. Less than forty-eight hours notice was given of the meeting, while the act requires at least seven days. More than one instance of poor spelling appeared in the notices, including "gmandes" and "preceeding."

Participation in lotteries does not run counter to the doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church and the numbered subscription plan of the University of Montreal for raising funds has received the endorsement of the highest dignitaries of the church in Canada, the Toronto Star learned on inquiry at the office of Rev. J. A. Valois, chancellor of the diocese of Montreal.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gresham will regret to hear that they are leaving us next week. Mr. Gresham has been moved to Whiskey Creek, beyond Cardston. They will be greatly missed, especially in the church of England and Mr. Gresham in the Masonic lodge, as in both places the latter's fine baritone voice has always been heard to advantage. They will leave a big gap in our social life.—Okotoks Review.

Bert McPhee, of Cranbrook, was elected president of the Crows' Nest Pass Curling Association at the recent annual meeting held in Blaimore. Other officers elected were: R. O. Allison, Pincher Creek, vice-president; Sherwood Herchmer, Fernie, secretary-treasurer; H. Blake, Blaimore; Jack McLeod, Coleman; Stan Walker, Pincher Creek; R. W. Greenway, Lethbridge; E. K. Stewart, Fernie; and Bill Cameron, Cranbrook, executive committee.

In the final of the Columbus Club bridge drives, played off at the big bridge and whist drive in the Columbus hall here on Wednesday night of last week, the winners in bridge were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre, of Bellevue. Mrs. L. L. Morgan and Mrs. Brusset were winners of first and second prizes for the night; Mr. Floyd Hottle winning gent's first, and Mr. J. A. McDonald second on a draw with Mr. R. Baines; and in whist: Mrs. E. Royle, ladies' first; Mrs. G. Bond, second; G. Pire, gent's first; Mrs. Paul, gent's second, after cutting from a tie with Miss Katie Kubik.

Twenty years ago last week, Mrs. W. L. Ouimette died at Coleman.

Eggs are lower at Lundbreck. Twenty-four were dropped by one hen last month.

Miss May Maltman, high school teacher at Cranbrook, was reported as seriously ill last week.

A splendid parody on the town and school administration of Blaimore was shown on the screen in a Pass theatre last week.

Pissgillows are out in abundance east of the Frank slide. Hundreds of robins and ducks are to be seen along the rivers and on some of the open lakes.

A curling rink from High River, of which J. M. Windsor, former Blaimoreite, was skip, carried off the grand championship honors at the Blackie bonspiel recently.

EYES EXAMINED at the Blaimore Pharmacy on Saturday afternoon, February 10th, E. J. ANDERSON, B.Sc., in attendance. Free demonstration of Acousticon Hearing Aid.

Rev. Roy C. Taylor, of Coleman, will be the guest preacher in Blaimore United church Sunday evening, February 4th, in the absence of Rev. A. E. Larke. Mr. Taylor will take as his sermon-subject "The Abundant Life."

The new caterpillar tractor for the Town of Blaimore arrived at the local station last night, and is being unloaded at Frank today. In the course of the next day or two it will be seen in operation, forcing the plow through our blocked side streets.

Ratepayers have made note of the fact that until today the annual meeting of the ratepayers of Blaimore School District had not been called. We, too, have a specimen notice on our desk, in which the Blaimore School District is not mentioned.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Meffan came very near being destroyed by fire at an early hour on Friday morning last. Mr. Meffan woke up to find fire in the wall beside his bed. An alarm was made and the firemen, located close by, were on the scene immediately and quenched the blaze. With a high wind blowing at the time, just another minute or two and the flames would undoubtedly have got beyond control.

Camp 15, in the Gap, now has 85 men, and 15 more are to be added the early part of this month. The camp is very comfortably situated on Race Horse Creek for the winter months. James Tarbet, the head chef, enjoyed a week end vacation at Lundbreck, Blaimore and Coleman. He's a fast boy when he gets going. Foreman Hoagland brought a man in to the Coleman hospital on Friday, suffering from bruises caused by a small slide hitting him while working on the new grade. He was not seriously hurt.

Beyond the activities of the local Mine Workers union, very little interest is being shown in the forthcoming municipal and school elections. Messrs. Pinckney and Oakes complete their term, and are not yet decided as to whether or not they will be in the running. Another vacancy, caused through the resignation of Robert Horne several months ago, is to be filled. An election to fill this vacancy was asked for by the school board at the time of Horne's resignation. The local union's slate for trustees is O. M. Olson, Sam Patterson and Joe Krokosky, junior; and for council E. Morgan, E. House and J. Packer. There's to be no majority contest.

Lieut-Governor W. L. Walsh celebrated his 77th birthday on Sunday last.

Bellevue Maple Leafs defeated the Blaimore Bearcats here last night by a 3-2 score.

Work on the west end of the new Slide road commenced this week near Frank, where the snow had disappeared rapidly in the last few days.

The annual financial statements and auditor's report for the town of Coleman appeared in the Journal last week—easily read, and easily understood.

J. P. Alexander, supervisor of the Clearwater Forest Reserve, formerly of Pincher Creek, and Mrs. Alexander, returned recently from a month's visit to California.

Miss Norma Cox, R.N., has been selected from a considerable list of applicants as the new superintendent of the High River municipal hospital, succeeding Miss Thelma Powell, resigned. Miss Cox is a graduate of the Calgary general hospital.

Blaimore is the only town in the civilized world where the local powers are bucking the local newspaper, which is the most valuable and most important asset the town has. Not only are they trying to break down the newspaper, but also other worthwhile institutions in the town, not excepting the churches.

J. T. Griffiths, maybe, holds the speed record for leaving hospital, following an operation for removal of appendix. He was sitting up in four days, and spent the remainder of his convalescence at home. He will spend a few days with a brother at Lethbridge.—Coleman Journal.

NOTICE

TOWN OF BLAIRMORE

The adjourned meeting of Ratepayers of the Town of Blaimore and Blaimore School District No. 628, to pass on Financial Statements, will be resumed in the Columbus Hall, on Friday, February 2nd, at 8 p.m. C. M. LARBALESTIER, Secretary.
